

My Doggie Says...

Messages from Jamie

Fred M. Haney

What is your dog saying to you?

My Doggie Says... is about a golden retriever named Jamie and her ability to communicate with her people, Fred and Barbara. Through different actions and body language, she sends messages like, "I really want to go swimming now," or "Could I please have a puppy treat," or "How come Okie-Dokie the cat is sleeping on my puppy pad?" The book contains 85 full color photographs to illustrate some of Jamie's special communications. The reader learns how to become a better pet "listener" and how to create a more nurturing relationship with a pet.

Fred M. Haney, Author

Fred Haney has been photographing his golden retrievers' "messages" for over eight years. He was inspired by a week long picture-taking expedition in Yellowstone National Park that made him more sensitive to animals' body language. Observing Jamie's "talking" helped him become a better doggie listener, and it helped him build an extremely close relationship with her. Fred is a high-tech venture capitalist, angel investor, and entrepreneur. He has a Ph.D. degree in Computer Sciences from Carnegie-Mellon University.
